PSAT/NMSQT Seminar

This 6-hour seminar is geared exclusively for Delaware Hayes HS junior-year students preparing who soon will take the PSAT/NMSQT. Our intention is to prepare students for the new digital PSAT and SAT by helping them to become familiar with the test itself and the types of questions they will encounter on it.

The seminar helps students understand the test structure, format, and adaptive component, as well as provides concrete test-taking and time management strategies to enable them to approach the test effectively. For the Reading & Writing portion of the test, we spend considerable time on the different levels of difficulty of questions they'll see in each of the four academic content domains and 10 skill sets students tested. We then delve into mathematics concepts surrounding problem shortcuts and tricks that can help students solve some of the most difficult problems appearing on the test. Every student gets a reference workbook outlining the test structure and key strategies as well as a large collection of practice questions and answers from the College Board bank of questions.

Next Level Prep is a national leader in PSAT, SAT, & ACT preparation. We currently work with over 100 high schools here in Ohio alone & thousands of students (urban, suburban, & small town/rural) each year in states around the country. Our typical students see a 2.0 composite point increase on the ACT or an 80-point increase on the SAT after taking one of our seminars.

Our engaging instructors consistently score 94%-plus A ratings on student evaluations. So, students emerge justifiably confident—with decidedly less anxiety—about their prospects on the test.
