Message From Thack

Each year, the Week of Prayer for Christian Unity, January 18-25, invites Christians across traditions to pause, pray, and remember a truth that is both ancient and urgently contemporary: we belong to one another in Christ. This week is beautifully framed by two feast days that stand like bookends on the church calendar, the Confession of Saint Peter (January 18) and the Conversion of Saint Paul (January 25). Together, they tell a story not of easy agreement, but of hard-won unity.

At first glance, Saint Peter and Saint Paul could hardly have been more different. Peter, the fisherman from Galilee, was shaped by long days with Jesus, learning faith through proximity, failure, and forgiveness. Paul, the zealous Pharisee turned apostle, encountered the risen Christ not by the lakeshore but on the road to Damascus. After being struck blind by our Lord, then converted as a follower of Christ, he was sent out as an apostle with relentless zeal. Peter was impulsive and pastoral and Paul was precise and missional. These two pillars of the early Church did not always see eye to eye.

The New Testament does not sanitize their disagreements. Paul recounts confronting Peter in Antioch over the inclusion of Gentile believers into the faith. Peter's position was that Gentiles could not convert to the faith unless they were first circumcised. This was no minor squabble. It went to the heart of what the Church would become. Would Christianity remain a small, culturally bounded movement, or would it grow into a truly universal body? The tension was real, public, and uncomfortable. But here is the miracle: they did not walk away from one another.

At the Council Of Jerusalem recorded in Acts 15, the issue of circumcision came to a head. Together, through prayer, argument, compromise, and discernment, the early Church learned that unity is not the absence of disagreement, but the commitment to remain at the same table even when convictions clash. Following James of Jerusalem's proposal, Gentile converts to the faith would not have to be circumcised. As we learned from this controversy in the early Church, unity was not sameness. It was faithfulness to Christ that proved stronger than personal preference or cultural habit. That lesson echoes powerfully today.

In a fractured Christian landscape marked by denominational divisions, political polarization, and theological suspicion, the witness of Peter and Paul feels almost countercultural. We are often tempted to retreat into like-minded enclaves or to define ourselves over and against one another. Yet the Gospel calls us to something deeper and more demanding: unity rooted in Christ, not uniformity enforced by fear.

The Week of Prayer for Christian Unity reminds us that our shared confession, "Jesus is Lord," matters more than the labels (Episcopal, Catholic, Baptist, etc.) that follow our church names. It challenges us to pray not only for agreement, but for humility; not only for cooperation, but for love. Like Peter and Paul, we are invited to trust that the Holy Spirit can work through honest disagreement to lead the Church into greater faithfulness.

As we stand between Peter's confession and Paul's conversion, we are reminded that the Church is always being shaped by both: steadfast faith and ongoing transformation. May this week renew our commitment to one another, and may our prayers help the world see that Christian unity, though imperfect and unfinished, is still one of the Church's most compelling witnesses. "There is one body and one Spirit... one Lord, one faith, one baptism" (Ephesians 4:4–5).

Peace, Thack

Thank you, Gracias, Merci, Danke, Cnacuóo, Todá (תודה)

Dear Friends,

On behalf of myself and the parish staff, thank you for your generous Christmas gift. Your kindness and thoughtfulness mean more to us than words can adequately express. We are deeply grateful for your generosity, and even more grateful for the privilege of serving you. Each of us experiences our work here not simply as a job, but as a calling, one that we do not take for granted. It is a joy and an honor to serve alongside you and among you. Thank you for your support, your encouragement, and your faithfulness. You are a blessing to us.

Peace, Thack

New Adult Sunday School Class

You are invited to join the Adult Sunday School class as we begin a new study of Paul's Letter to the Colossians. Our first class will meet on Sunday, February 8, at 9:15 AM in Conference Room A of the Howard Wilson Center.

The Letter to the Colossians was written by the Apostle Paul around AD 60–62, most likely during his imprisonment. Addressed to the Christian community in Colossae, the letter responds to challenges facing a young church trying to remain faithful amid competing teachings and cultural pressures. Some believers were being drawn toward ideas that diminished the sufficiency of Christ, blending Christian faith with philosophy, mysticism, and strict religious practices.

Paul writes to re-center the church on the truth that Christ alone is supreme and sufficient. Colossians offers a powerful vision of who Christ is, how deeply we are rooted in Him, and what it means to live a life shaped by gratitude, holiness, and love. It is a letter both theological and practical, grounding everyday Christian living in the fullness of Christ.

We would love for you to be part of this study as we read, reflect, and learn together. Whether you are new to Sunday school or a long-time participant, you are most welcome.

Peace, Thack

CHILDREN'S CHAPEL

WHAT WE'RE LEARNING!

In Children's Chapel at both 8:00 and 10:30 Services we have been learning about the Liturgical Calendar, and symbols in the church. Last Sunday we took down Advent's purple and replaced it with Ordinary time's green. We looked at Advent, Lent, Pentecost, Christmas and Easter! Over the next few weeks, we will be learning about Jesus as a boy and the beginning of His ministry!

St. Paul's Choir

Thank you to our choir for the time and dedication spent in preparing the music for our Christmas Eve services. I am so grateful for their commitment to this ministry and look forward to the year ahead.

This Sunday, Jan 25th at 2:30 everyone is invited to a piano recital held at our church, presented by me and my classmates in the University of Mobile Piano Department. The recital will feature works from Rachmaninoff, Albeniz, Sieg, Ginastera, Scarlatti, Scriabin, Chopin, Beethoven, Liszt and local composers.

Please join us for this special musical event. It is open to the public; however, tax deductible donations which directly benefit the students are appreciated and can be made to my piano teacher's 501c3 foundation, the Gulf Coast Steinway Society.

Refreshments will be provided afterwards in the narthex.

THRIFT SHOP VOLUNTEER OF THE MONTH

Sam Thompson was chosen as our December Volunteer of the Month. Originally from New Orleans, Sam has lived in Spanish Fort for the past decade and, after a 40+ year career as an engineer with Lockheed Martin and Airbus, he retired several months ago. A member of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Sam assists with the monthly Bingo night and dinner, participates in the annual mission trip to the Dominican Republic and in the Men's Group, serves as a videographer for the church services and tests electronics and small appliances at the Thrift Shop. When Sam is not serving somewhere on the church campus, he enjoys fishing and exploring the local waters on his boat and visiting his 4 children and 2 grandchildren in Vermont, Louisiana, Texas and Colorado. Sam was recently elected to serve for the next 3 years on the Thrift Shop's Board of Directors and, when asked what his favorite aspect of being a Thrift Shop volunteer is, he quickly responded with the people and the camaraderie among the volunteers. Thanks for all you do, Sam. We are blessed to have you!

For the Absent, BCP, p.830

O God, whose fatherly care reaches to the uttermost parts of the earth: We humbly beseech you graciously to behold and bless those whom we love, now absent from us. Defend them from all dangers of soul and body; and grant that both they and we, drawing nearer to you, may be bound together by your love in the communion of your Holy Spirit, and in the fellowship of your saints; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen

Over the holidays some were privileged to spend time with family and/or friends who don't live nearby. Others were unable to get together with relatives who live far away. In either case, we may be missing them now. Let us remember them and bless them with this sweet prayer. When we look at the moon and the stars, we are comforted in the knowledge that they can share in the same experience. Likewise, we know that the same God who watches over us, watches over them. The same Holy Spirit who fills our hearts can fill theirs. In these ways, though physically distant, through God's love, we remain connected. Praise God!

The award winning short documentary Sallie's Ashes - an Oscar-qualifying film about an Alabama group's fight to protect Mobile Bay from toxic coal ash. Currently showing at film festivals across the US.

Arsenic and other heavy metals are already contaminating the Mobile River. If 21 million tons of cancer-causing coal ash sludge spilled into the Tensaw Delta, Mobile Bay would be polluted forever.

WWW.MOVETHEASH.COM CHECK WEBSITE FOR FUTURE SHOWINGS

The Coal Ash Action Group (CAAG), founded in 2022 by the late Sallie Smith, continues to carry forward her vision: the safe removal of this massive toxic coal ash pond threatening the Mobile River, Mobile Bay, and the treasured Tensaw Delta—known as “America’s Amazon.”

At age 80, while facing terminal cancer, Sallie Smith rallied fellow Alabama grandmothers to take on one of the state’s most urgent environmental battles. Together, they formed CAAG to demand accountability from Alabama Power’s Plant Barry, where 21 million tons of coal ash—laden with carcinogens, neurotoxins, and other hazardous pollutants—sit in an unlined pond just 20 miles upstream from Mobile Bay.

Their work has drawn national attention. An interview with Alabama Public Radio’s Cori Yonge was picked up by National Public Radio, catching the ear of an Oscar- and Emmy-winning producer. That connection led to the creation of “Sallie’s Ashes,” a moving 40-minute documentary about Sallie Smith’s final months, in which she transformed personal struggle into a campaign for environmental justice. Although Sallie passed away on October 27, 2023, her spirit continues to inspire.
