

Today, Tuesday, October 15, 2019, is our 62nd day in our countdown of 100 days leading to the celebration of Gianna Gobbi's Centenary.

Today we share words from Gianna herself about welcoming the child.

"Calling the children each by name in a whisper, we invite them to enter the atrium and choose a chair on which to sit. (We might show them how to carry their own chair to the circle, or we might have the chairs already in place in a circle.)"
