Weather: Facts and Fiction

How the Weather Works

featuring H. Michael Mogil, Meteorologist, Education Consultant, Hurricane Expert

Living in Florida, you always need to keep your eye to the sky. Whether you are golfing, boating or lounging by the pool, our local weather can quickly turn from picture perfect to perilous.

We've invited local meteorologist, Mike Mogil, to share facts and debunk weather myths to help protect you and your family. Mike has spent the last five decades studying and analyzing weather. He has turned his research and passion into educational camps, resource materials and informative presentations.

Mike's credentials are extensive. He previously worked with NOAA (National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration), NWS (National Weather Service) and multiple universities. He has also authored five weather trade books, numerous educational products and serves as an on-air weather and hurricane expert with WGUF- FM Radio. In addition, he earned his Bachelors and Masters Degrees in Meteorology from Florida State University.

If you have ever wondered, can lightning strike the same place twice or is lightning only dangerous when you hear thunder, then come join us for a fun, informational hands-on presentation. Mike will answer your weather questions and share weather safety rules. Please join us - Rain or Shine!
