

Mount Sinai Secures $4 Million Grant from American Cancer Society to Establish Cancer Health Research Center

Bioengineer.org - August 12, 2025

American Cancer Society has granted $4.08 million to The Tisch Cancer Institute at the Icahn School of Medicine at Mount Sinai, empowering the launch of the Cancer Health Research Center

Reach: 20,771

Fred R. Hirsch: New Guidelines for Immunotherapy for Lung Cancer and Mesotheliomas

OncoDaily - August 18, 2025

Fred R. Hirsch, MD, PhD, publishes new guideline on immunotherapy for the treatment of lung cancer and mesothelioma.

Reach: 141,670

Teclistamab Real-World Data and Trial Results Show Promise in R/R Multiple Myeloma

Oncology - CancerNetwork - August 19, 2025

Cesar Rodriguez Valdes, MD, and Adriana Rossi, MD, discuss their research on teclistamab's efficacy in multiple myeloma, highlighting real-world data and treatment protocols.

Reach: 78,240

Debate Over? Radiotherapy vs Surgery in High-Risk Prostate Cancer
Medscape - August 20, 2025

Mani Menon, MD, discusses a study evaluating individual patient data from two large contemporary randomized controlled trials, which appeared to favor a radiotherapy-based treatment strategy over a surgery-based approach in this patient population.

Reach: 5,415,513

Combination treatment approach shows promise for hard-to-treat triple-negative breast cancer

News Medical - August 21, 2025

Amy Tiersten, MD, and Rima Patel, MD, discuss their research which found that adding the targeted therapy everolimus to standard carboplatin chemotherapy extends the time before disease progression in patients with advanced triple-negative breast cancer.

Reach: 1,631,369

Researchers Successfully Treat Rare T-Cell Lymphoma for the First Time

Technology Networks - August 22, 2025

Samir Parekh, MBBS, discusses his research pioneering the first targeted therapy for rare T-cell lymphoma after CAR T-cell treatment.

Reach: 269,462

Treatment Succeeds for Secondary Cancer After CAR-T, Case Report Shows

MedPage Today - August 22, 2025

Samir Parekh, MBBS, discusses his research pioneering the first targeted therapy for rare T-cell lymphoma after CAR T-cell treatment.

Reach: 1,191,735

Scientists create AI-powered tool to improve cancer tissue analysis

Medical Xpress - August 25, 2025

Sacha Gnjjatic, PhD, discusses his research developing a powerful new computational tool that could transform how cancer tissues are analyzed and help pave the way for more personalized treatments.

Reach: 1,581,784

Mount Sinai researchers develop MARQO to revolutionize cancer tissue analysis

News Medical - August 25, 2025

Sacha Gnjjatic, PhD, discusses his research developing a powerful new computational tool that could transform how cancer tissues are analyzed and help pave the way for more personalized treatments.

Reach: 1,631,369

ESOPEC Trial: FLOT Protocol Proves Superior to CROSS Regimen in Locally Advanced Esophageal Cancer

The ASCO Post • August 27, 2025

Karyn Goodman, MD, MS, discusses the ESOPEC trial, which compared two regimens for locally advanced esophageal cancer and found an overall survival benefit with the perioperative FLOT protocol over the neoadjuvant chemoradiotherapy CROSS regimen.

64.9k Reach

Prostate Cancer Screening Bus Opens

WSB-TV Atlanta – September 03, 2025

The Winship Cancer Institute of Emory University modeled their new mobile unit prostate cancer screening program after Mount Sinai's, under Dr. Ash Tewari's leadership.

No reach data

