

STEM for Young Learners Training

What preschooler doesn't enjoy exploring, experimenting, and building?

Your STEM curriculum will explode with supplemental materials after attending this engaging session with WEDU PBS.

Using the many PBS KIDS characters to encourage curiosity and exploration, this training will give providers ideas for STEM activities inside the classroom and out. Educators will learn easy, everyday tips for incorporating STEM concepts into early learning curriculums; as well as full lesson plans, science experiments, recipes, and interactive games/apps.
