2025 PLAN VOCA Grantee Training

Training Descriptions

- 1. May 19, 10:00 AM – 11:30 AM – Introduction to Trauma-Informed Advocacy, Presenter: Richard Prebil, Legal Aid of Southeastern Pennsylvania -1.5 substantive CLE credit

A trauma-informed approach to services acknowledges the prevalence and impact of trauma, while attempting to create safety for all participants. Through trauma-informed, client-centered advocacy we have the ability to help an individual be empowered to make their own choice, collaboratively with an advocate they trust. Furthermore, advocates can be aware of its impact on our own lives so that we can mitigate the effects of vicarious trauma and burnout.

6. May 21, 1:00 PM – 2:30 PM – What Every Family Lawyer Needs to Know When Representing Immigrant Survivors – Presenter: Leslye E. Orloff, National Immigrant Women’s Advocacy Project, American University, Washington College of Law and Susan Pearlstein, Philadelphia Legal Aid – 1.5 substantive CLE credit

This training will provide an opportunity for attorneys working with immigrant victims to learn best practices for addressing issues that arise in family court cases involving immigrant domestic and sexual violence survivors and their children. Attendees will learn how to identify and develop litigation strategies to anticipate and counter perpetrator’s efforts to use immigration related issues to gain advantage in custody, divorce, and protection order cases. Topics to be covered will include enforcing Affidavits of Support in divorce/support proceedings and successfully using federal VAWA confidentiality laws to prevent family court discovery of information about or contents of a victim’s immigration case file. Attendees receive access to toolkits, tools, and resources on immigrant crime victims’ legal rights and to NIWAP’s web library, online webinars, and will learn about NIWAP’s technical assistance on individual cases of immigrant survivors that attorneys encounter in their work.

By the end of this training participants will be able to:

- Implement family court litigation strategies that inform judges about the immigration related abuse and legal immigration status for victims;
- Counter perpetrators’ attempts to use victim’s immigration status to gain advantage in family court cases; and
- Help immigrant survivors access the financial support they are owed through Affidavit of Support enforcement and spousal/child support awards.
- Prevent discovery of VAWA confidentiality protected immigration case file information

8. May 22, 1:00 PM – 2:30 PM – The Role of Immigration Status in Accessing Services and Legal Protections for Immigrant Survivors in Pennsylvania – Presenter: Leslye E. Orloff, National Immigrant Women’s Advocacy Project, American University, Washington College of Law – 1.5 substantive CLE credit

Attorneys play a crucial role helping immigrant domestic violence, child/elder abuse, sexual assault, stalking, and human trafficking victims gain access to justice and the full range of services and assistance they are legally entitled to receive. This training will provide an overview of legal immigration status for immigrant survivors. It will then discuss the benefits and services immigrant survivors qualify for in Pennsylvania as they apply for and are granted legal immigration status. Participants will build skills to identify the benefits for which immigrant victims qualify and will learn best practices for accompanying immigrant survivors applying for benefits they or their children are eligible to receive. The workshop attendees will learn how to use NIWAP's public benefits map and state charts and will receive tools, training materials, resources, and technical assistance to support their work with immigrant survivors and their children.

By the end of this training participants will be able to:

- Screen immigrant survivors for legal immigration status eligibility;
- Quickly identify which immigrant victims and their children qualify for which types of publicly funded benefits and services (e.g. housing, healthcare) in the Pennsylvania;
- Understand how pursuing legal immigration status impacts benefit and services option for immigrant survivors.
