

1. Back in 1635, the original settlers called Newbury's Third Parish, what is now current day Newburyport, what:
 - A. Sandy Bottom
 - B. Waterside
 - C. Gillis' Folly
 - D. New Newbury
2. This salty resident complained about politicians, the clergy and his wife in "A Pickle for the Knowing One."
 - A. Caleb Cushing
 - B. Bossy Gillis
 - C. Lord Timothy Dexter
 - D. William Lloyd Garrison
3. Speaking of Lord Timothy Dexter, he made his fortune selling what to the West Indies?
 - A. Stray cats
 - B. Wool mitten
 - C. Warming pans
 - D. All of the above
4. Dexter's High Street mansion sported how many wooden statues of famous men including George Washington, Napoleon Bonaparte, Thomas Jefferson, himself and more.
 - A. 20
 - B. 30
 - C. 40
 - D. 50
5. Prior to 1842, Oak Hill Cemetery was originally called:
 - A. Old Hill Cemetery
 - B. Oak Tree Cemetery
 - C. Old Maid's Hall
 - D. Over the Hill Cemetery
6. Laura Coombs Hills, 1859-1952, American artist and illustrator, is most well known for her work in what media:
 - A. Oil paints
 - B. Watercolors & pastels
 - C. Miniatures on ivory
 - D. Silhouettes
7. Federal Street was once known as:
 - A. Duke Street
 - B. Prince Street
 - C. Queen Street
 - D. King Street

8. Current day Ceia Kitchen + Bar, located at 38 State Street, was NOT home to:

- A. The Rockfish
- B. The Steak & Stein
- C. The U.S. Post Office
- D. The Little Bookstore

9. Buried in Old Hill cemetery, Duncan Chase (1919-1980) was a colorful character and always considered the life of the party. He was fond of telling people this...so much so, it is featured on his gravestone.

- A. "I hate cats."
- B. "I'm a cool cool cat."
- C. "Newburyport's got rats as big as cats."
- D. "If cats could talk, they wouldn't." (credit: Nan Porter)