

Construction Update

After four months of construction, our long-dreamed vision of JBS 2.0 is coming to life!

By John DeFillipo

We're excited to see our new David K. Sands and Stephen M. Seay classroom silos and Great Blue Heron Pavilion rise out of the ground.

The silos are secure to their foundations, the windows are installed—four facing north and four facing south—and 6-foot doors open onto the Dragonfly Lawn.

Inside the climate-controlled silos are open and welcoming spaces topped off with solar tubes flooding the classrooms with light.

The upright columns of the pavilion and the Green-Winged Teal Terrace are being erected to provide over 2,500 square feet of shade coverage for student programs and visitor observations.

One of the most important milestones so far is the completion of a new .7-of-a-mile-long 6-inch waterline to our new fire hydrant and fire suppression system for the new space. This installation will provide safety and security for our expanded campus.

We expect completion of JBS 2.0 later this fall.

Find out more about our JBS 2.0 expansion.

In Appreciation

We sincerely thank our many donors for their contributions to sustain our future by doubling student capacity and providing a venue for new exciting programs.

Lyda Hill Philanthropies
The Meadows Foundation
David Keith Sands Education Fund
Stephen M Seay Foundation
Children of John Bunker Sands -
Jacob, Stark, Haven, Kathryn,
Courtenay
Hillcrest Foundation, U.S. Trust, Bank of America, N.A.
Ken and Cheryl Mindell
Plummer Associates, Inc.
Wilson and Laura Sands
Esber Charitable Trust
Roy & Christine Sturgis Charitable Trust, U.S. Trust, Bank of America, N.A.
Tav and Maureen Lupton - Communities Foundation of Texas
Suzanne and Steve Tuttle - In Memory of Sue and Don Petrecca
Gulf Coast Community Foundation
Talonvest
TVEC Charitable Foundation
Ken and Carolyn Barth
John Dziminski - The Catholic Foundation
Loretta Mokry
Robin Sissell
Aaron and Alisha Bell
Nathan and Jennifer Saxe
AJ and Jason Murry
Daniel Bell and Carol Garrison