

Walk & Talk Bird Tour

For beginning and intermediate birders. But all are welcome!

Join us as we go on a walking bird tour and learn about the birds that live at the wetland. Meet the tour leaders at the Wetland Center at 7 a.m. It's the perfect way to learn the basics of birding.

In this beginner-to-immediate class, you'll learn how to use binoculars and field guides, keep a life-list and what to look for when identifying birds.

Enjoy a relaxing morning learning more about the fastest-growing spectator sport in America.

Binoculars and field guides are available for use.

When: First Saturday of the month

Time: 7 a.m.-9 a.m.

Cost: Free with $5 admission; members free

Registration: Not required — just show up!

Note: This program will be canceled if it's raining.

Photos by Tom Fleming. Above: Juvenile white ibis. Below: Wetland scenery

For more information, call 972-474-9100 or email
Linda Dunn at ldunn@wetlandcenter.com.

