

It might be hard to believe, but it's already time to start planning for the program year.

Actually, it's getting to be a little late into the game.

Which is funny, especially since Summer is barely halfway done!

But, it's true!

We're planning for the program year!

Board Chairs are already asking for budget number requests for 2023. Ministries are looking at calendars for upcoming events and program offerings. And special worship services are already being drafted and discussed.

Some of your favorite events "from before" will be back (like the monthly breakfasts! Yay!) and you'll see some new events, too.

And if you're part of a ministry and want to start something, be sure to talk with your Board Chair and then, go for it!

Be sure to save the date for September 11—that's Homecoming Sunday! We'll have 1 service and a lunch afterwards, to celebrate the beginning of the program year!

If you can't tell (especially by the number of exclamation points), I'm very excited and can't wait to see what all we, as St. Philip's, can do together!

In the meantime, keep dreaming, keep imagining, and keep planning for the future of St. Philip's
