SO LONG CHARAN! HELLO, CANAAN!

Avram discovers Hashem as a young boy. But it isn't until he's 75, that Hashem finally speaks to him in a dream. He commands Avram, "Leave your land, your father's house, and go to the land that I will show you."

Hashem doesn't specify any particular location though? But check out Avram's unyielding loyalty to Hashem: He immediately picks up and goes. And it's not just him. His wife Sarai, his nephew Lot, and his servant Eliezer, head out the door. Then there are all of Avram's followers. Let's not forget that Avram is a very persuasive person. He's got loads of students who will follow him wherever he goes. With heaven-sent clouds as their guide, they soon arrive in the beautiful land of Canaan.

The problem is that a drought also arrives at the same time; the rain stops falling, the crops wither and the trees stop producing fruit. What a disaster! Of course, this is all part of Hashem's plan. Will Avram complain? Will he say, "In Charan we had plenty to eat and now we are starving"? Nope! Avram trusts Hashem and is determined to make the best of the situation. He's got unrelenting faith. The lesson here is: YA GOTTA BELIEVE!!

"Quote of the Week"

But there used to be lots of idols- and then some
The followers of this one in the Torah were extra bad
They would sacrifice their kids - and were truly mad!
