Greater Boston's housing is one of the most pressing policy challenges for the region. Policy researcher Amy Dain is releasing a paper on the local zoning and permitting of multi-family housing in the 100 cities and towns outside Boston. Her paper provides unique data on what is happening "on the ground."

Following Dain's presentation, a panel will discuss the data and its policy implications. In addition to Dain, the panel will include:

- Tim Reardon, Data Services Director, Metropolitan Area Planning Council
- Jeff Rhuda, Business Development Manager for Symes Associates
- Lisa Wong, Winchester Town Manager and former Mayor of Fitchburg
- Moderator: Andre Leroux, Executive Director, Massachusetts Smart Growth Alliance
