Rabbi Alan G. Ciner, Vice President
Touro College & University System

speaking on the topic

Hope in the Midst of Despair

As the largest institution of higher education under Jewish auspices in the States, Touro's 19,000 students at its undergraduate, graduate and professional schools are involved in a multitude of disciplines including Jewish studies, allied health and pharmacy, law, social work, education, technology and business. In addition to Touro's five colleges of medicine, Touro recently opened the Touro College of Dental Medicine.
