

Are you ready?

Patrick Knight, Safety & Quality Manager

What if the unthinkable happened today? That worst-case scenario. The reason your company has an emergency response assistance plan (ERAP). Are you ready?

Determine your organization's level of readiness in response to an ERAP activation: enroll in our Plan Participant Readiness and Review Program (free for ERAC Plan Participants). The program is designed to:

- improve your operational response readiness and highlight the importance of ERAPs, including the roles, capabilities and responsibilities of your organization and ERAC
- determine your organization's readiness through the program's assessment questionnaire
- offer tailored ERAP awareness training with ERAC
- follow up with Plan Participants
