

Amy Rankin

Amy Rankin started her library career at the National Library (now Library and Archives Canada) as a co-op student, then as a contract employee, then as a term employee and finally as a "permanent" employee. During this time, she completed her MLIS online through Southern Connecticut University. Amy returned to Saskatchewan on a term with Provincial Library (now Provincial Library and Literacy Office).

From 2003-2006, Amy served on the SLA conference committee and on the SLA Board as the Special Library Director. In 2006, Amy moved to the RCMP Learning Resource Centre, where she is currently the Manager. From 2007-2009, Amy served as Vice-President, President and Past-President on the SLA Board. During this time, she also served as conference co-chair for a couple of the SLA conferences. Amy is pleased to be returning to the SLA Board as President for the 2019-2020 year.

Amy's goals as the SLA President

I appreciate the opportunity to serve as President of the SLA board for the next year. It is exciting to have the opportunity to work with the "new" board structure. I have seen so many interesting changes and developments occur over the past few years with the very strong board members and committees' hard work. It has been interesting to see the launch and continued success of the One Book, One Province program and to see the developments with the annual conference.

I feel that I bring a wealth of experience and knowledge to the organization and think I can help guide a board with a fairly high turn-over. I have a calm presence that I think would provide support to a new board and an experienced ED at the same time. I am interested in learning more about where the organization sits within their strategic plan and work on planning for the future.
