Saskatchewan Libraries and COVID-19

As the COVID-19 situation continues changing, Saskatchewan libraries have been returning to business. Most libraries are providing curbside pickup and many have opened their doors to the public. We understand that it may take a while until all libraries are fully prepared to reopen with the proper safety measures, and that the services provided may differ in each area of the province. SLA is monitoring the situation and will continue to provide information as it becomes available. We have compiled a list of libraries that are currently providing services to the public as of August 26, 2020:

Chinook Regional Library: All branches closed to the public.

- Curbside pickup and returns available at most branches.
