The Provincial and Territorial Library Associations of Canada

ATTENTION STUDENTS: The Education Institute wants to hear your ideas!

Do you have an interesting topic that you'd like to share with library professionals across Canada? Looking for a way to boost up your CV? Would you like to gain experience speaking to virtual groups? The Education Institute is seeking speakers to conduct webinars that would be of interest to Canadian information professionals.

We value student research and want your voice to be heard. As the next generation of library professionals, this is a wonderful opportunity to share your research with people in the field and foster connections between academic schools and professionals.

Interested students are encouraged to submit their proposal using the web form: <http://bit.ly/1k57ctj>

Student speakers will be a part of our “Bright Young Minds” webinar series. Each speaker will receive an honourarium. The webinars included in this series are free for all association members to join.

To give you an idea of webinars we've presented in the past, take a look at our EI 2016 Summer Calendar, which is available here: <http://bit.ly/EISummer2016>
