Statistics Canada's workshop program is offering introductory professional workshops that may be of interest to you and/or your colleagues in the near future.

The next workshops to be offered in Saskatchewan:

Understanding Demographic Data	(February 12th, 2019 – Saskatoon)
Turning Statistics Into Stories	(February 13th, 2019 – Saskatoon)
How to Use Census Data	(February 14th, 2019 – Saskatoon)

Understanding Demographic Data (One day)
Regular fee $300 / Early bird fee $275 for registrations before January 30th

This workshop is designed for individuals whose jobs involve using or commissioning demographic data. Decision-makers who work in the development of social and economic programs will also find this workshop useful. Through the use of lecture style instruction, in-class discussion and examples, the workshop aims to enhance a participant's ability to understand and interpret demographic data, methods and techniques.

Turning Statistics Into Stories (One day)
Regular fee $300 / Early bird fee $275 for registrations before January 30th

An introductory workshop that will help you to communicate your message in a more effective manner. During this workshop, you will focus on your target audience, use statistics to present your story and put numbers into a context to help your audience understand your messages. Learn some useful tips on how to use tables, graphs and maps to illustrate your story.

How to Use Census Data (One day)
Regular fee $300 / Early bird fee $275 for registrations before January 30th

Collected every 5 years, the Census of Population is the most comprehensive source of data on the demographic, social and economic characteristics of Canadians. This introductory workshop is designed to acquaint new users with the wealth of information from this resource. The instructor will guide the class through the types of data available, their geographic organization, and the wide range of publications, electronic products, and services based on the Census. Workshop material will seek to demonstrate the depth and breadth of data available as a means to enhance participant's ability to use 2016 Census resources effectively.

If you are interested in attending one of our scheduled workshops, course registrations can be made by the following methods:

Online: http://www.statcan.gc.ca/eng/wtc/workshops
Fax: 604-660-4932

NEW
Statistics Canada is excited to be offering a free Webinar Series covering general topics. If you wish to be kept informed of upcoming webinars, please e-mail us at STATCAN Webinar.

Private Workshops: If a number of individuals from one organization wish to attend one of the professional workshops, a private, closed session can be arranged. This can be an efficient solution in the event that the scheduled session or location is not suitable to the organization. Content for a private workshop can also be adjusted to make it more relevant to the organization's interests.

Aussi disponible en français