W. Kaye Lamb Award for Service to Seniors 2021: Applications being accepted

The Ex Libris Association (ELA) and the Canadian Federation of Library Associations/Fédération canadienne des associations de bibliothèques (CFLA-FCAB) invite applications for the W. Kaye Lamb Award.

Open to any library across Canada, whether private, public, governmental, special or postsecondary, the W. Kaye Lamb Award is named for Canada's first National Librarian.

In co-sponsoring the award, Canada's two national library associations recognize outstanding library service to seniors. Award winners receive a $500.00 cash prize and a commemorative plaque. Awarded biennially when merited, it was last presented in 2018.

During the worldwide pandemic, we've learned of the innovative ways Canada's library workers have served library users, especially seniors. Libraries have retooled their services and spaces to comply with COVID19 protocols to keep people safe, informed and connected to their communities. The W. Kaye Lamb Award for Service to Seniors will highlight these efforts and share our colleagues' expertise and resilience in the service of seniors.

Submit completed applications or notification of the intention to apply by Thursday, September 30, 2021. For further information and to apply, go to:
