

2024 Travel Awardees Named

Dawn Ionescu, M.D., Education & Training Committee Chair
Josh Roffman, M.D., M.Sc., Education & Training Committee Co-Chair

The Education & Training Committee is pleased to announce the selection of 66 outstanding scientists for the 2024 ACNP Travel Award program. We received 329 applications for the 66 awards, making this yet another year for difficult decisions by the committee. In addition, the ACNP continues to partner with the ADAA (Anxiety Disorders Association of America) to offer invitations to their selected young researchers to attend the meeting.

The award benefit will allow these outstanding scientists the opportunity to attend the in-person meeting in Phoenix, Arizona or experience the meeting on a virtual platform via recordings. They will also experience the one-on-one mentorship experience which is a vitally important part of the travel award program.

The Travel Award program remains a key pathway program for the College, as it brings the best and brightest up and coming scientists in the field to participate in the Annual Meeting, some of whom will eventually go on to become members.

Click here for a complete listing of the ACNP Travel Award Class of 2024.