

Huli ka lima i lalo

Turning our minds, hearts, and hands
to the 'āina

Schedule:

- Spring Training, April 5, 2025 ***

Plenaries include:

- Dr. Jonathan Osorio: Dean of Hawai'iinuiākea School of Hawaiian Knowledge, UH; on mālama 'āina
- Polynesian Voyaging Society; on the Hōkūle'a

- Virtual Summer Speaker Series

July 26 or August 2:

Zoom pre-recorded talk with live Q & A

- Robin Wall Kimmerer: botanist, author of Braiding Sweetgrass: Indigenous Wisdom, Scientific Knowledge and the Teachings of Plants, and member of the Potawatomi Nation

June and July: TBD

- Education Day Volunteer Event
October 24, 2025

- All attendees are invited to volunteer at different mālama 'āina sites around O'ahu. For those who are not comfortable standing for long periods or doing physical work in hot weather, there will be an alternative volunteer or educational event at 'Iolani. We will learn by doing, by turning our hearts, minds, and hands to the 'āina! Stay tuned for more information about these volunteer sites.

*To register for Spring Training and other events, and for more information about Huli, visit the Diocesan website at:

www.episcopalhawaii.org

** Huli is a year-long emphasis on creation care made possible by a Creation Care grant from The Episcopal Church. It is a collaborative effort of Ho'imi Pono, the Native Hawaiian Ministry Committee, and Kahuaola (formerly the Creation Care and Environmental Justice Task Force). **