So, let's define Kūpuna:

An elder, grandparent, one having authority by virtue of age and experience and includes the many generations before us who by their spiritual wisdom and presence guide us through personal, familial or community challenges.

We look to our Kūpuna (today and yesterday) to help us find and fulfill our pathways through life. We consult with kūpuna as a powerful source of wisdom. Some define kūpuna as “to stand at the source”. Ku (to stand) and puna (from punawai, the source or spring water).

My friend Danny Akaka Jr. shares “we seldom expect definitive answers from our Kūpuna, and instead seek their perspective and experience to help us devise our own solutions. That way, we can put the wisdom they so generously share to good use by applying it to today's situation.”

From a more practical Kūpuna perspective, we know one thing for sure...you can only achieve the lofty status of Kūpuna, by living up to it. One cannot be a Kūpuna at 30 or 40 years of age. At 50 you can begin receiving senior discounts! I say that humorously but also realize that the Kūpuna demographic, as a force, is the most politically active. And when deftly organized translates to power. Kūpuna Power? Kūpuna Power is a state of mind. Kūpuna Power is self-determination, that you have the authority over how your life will be lived, where and with whom. But, to accomplish most of those goals, Kūpuna must know the resources needed for their support. Resources that help you assume responsibilities for your decisions and actions. In doing so you will find your power and become self-advocates empowering yourself with the knowledge of what resources are available to you from the State, the City, and even the Federal Government.

That's true Kūpuna Power!

Kūpuna Power is pleased to partner with Hawaii's Office of Elections. Hawaii will be voting by mail this election.

When you take advantage of postal voting, you get to fill out your ballot at a time that works for you. You can open the ballot at home and complete it on your own time. In fact, why not gather the ohana to talk it through before deciding, then return it by mail before the election deadline. It is a convenient option to use. Your Mailbox is your Ballot Box!

For more info, go to WeAreKupuna.com. We have distilled the overwhelming landscape of Kūpuna information into a helpful website of relevant subject matter, including “Vote By Mail.” In addition, Kupuna Power Face Book is available and, of course, refer to TV listings for Kupuna Power TV.

Finally, KŪPUNA POWER seeks to flip the script. We love and appreciate being “helped across the street” during the fall and winter of our lives. Equally important, we're here to help our ohana and friends, our keiki and keiki's keiki “across the street of life.” KŪPUNA POWER is a Kakou thing! 🧑
