Each year, the NCORE-ISCORE Project accepts applications from Iowa State students interested in participating in the NCORE-ISCORE Project.

This year-long student experience begins with attending the National Conference on Race and Ethnicity in Higher Education, followed by a course on race and ethnicity in the United States, designed to expand knowledge, skills, and attitudes surrounding topics of diversity, inclusion, and social justice.

Students will present knowledge gained from their NCORE experience and learning at the Iowa State Conference on Race and Ethnicity (ISCORE) the next spring.
