Mike D'Angelico '75 always wanted a career in health care. He attended the School of Radiologic Technology at St Vincent's Medical Center to prepare for the National Board Examination and became a certified Radiologic Technologist in 1977. He began his career as a Radiologic Technologist at St Vincent's Medical Center and moved to Bridgeport Hospital in 1979 where he has been ever since. Mike's career has evolved from a staff technologist to Interventional/Cardiovascular specialist, to Information Technology and Management and ultimately to his current role as the Director of Radiology for both the Bridgeport Hospital and Milford Hospital campuses. Mike said, "I credit the education I attained at Notre Dame for preparing me for my adult life not only in the academic areas but also for the values I learned while there. Compassion, integrity, knowledge, respect and faith are values that I embrace every day. While I value each of these, I must admit that compassion is my greatest asset. Working with the sick has always been one of my goals. I treasure my ability to show compassion to others and to help those less fortunate than myself". Mike resides in Shelton, CT with his wife of 35 years, Barbara. They have two sons and three beautiful grandchildren. Mike is a wonderful example of Living the Lancer mission.
