As the coronavirus situation evolves, the safety of our team members and customers is paramount. We’re working diligently to do everything we can to be prepared and address your concerns. We are sharing our preparedness actions to help ensure that you and your attendees for meetings and events have the information they need to plan their stay with us and are aware of our efforts to support a healthy stay. Our management team is working with direction from the World Health Organization (WHO) and the Center for Disease Control (CDC) as well as our local health departments to assure we are following their recommendations for cleanliness, sanitation and personal hygiene.

We recognize that the COVID-19 virus has required us to adjust our daily standards already in place. Our team members as of today are:

- Increasing the rigor of cleaning and sanitation procedures throughout the hotel, including all public space areas, Wave Health & Fitness, elevators, our restaurants, the garage and meeting rooms.
- Disinfecting common surfaces, including handrails, door handles and elevator push buttons more frequently.
- Making hand sanitizer available in all of our meeting rooms and public areas.

We continue to monitor updates from U.S. federal agencies and other global health authorities. We encourage all team members and guests to practice routine handwashing and healthy hygiene practices:

Wash your hands frequently with soap and water for at least 20 seconds;
Avoid close contact with those who are ill;
Avoid touching your eyes, nose and mouth;
Cover any cough or sneeze with tissues and throw those tissues in the trash immediately after.

We are working diligently to support our clients and their specific concerns regarding meeting, events and overnight accommodations here at Seaport.
