Dion's Pizza Names Stan Hrcncir Chief Financial Officer

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. – Dion's Pizza has named Stan Hrcncir its Chief Financial Officer. In this role, Hrcncir will focus on strategic planning and financial management for the organization, working closely with CEO Mark Herman and the Executive Team to provide oversight to various departments of the company.

Hrcncir spent 13 years as the audit partner for the Albuquerque-based CPA firm, Schlenker, Cantwell & Hrcncir, PA., working with companies ranging from restaurants, hotels, manufacturing and construction firms, to professional service and medical groups, and non-profit organizations throughout New Mexico.

In 2012, he became the CFO of the McDonough Corporation, headquartered in Scottsdale, Arizona, overseeing accounting and finances for the company and engaging with operational, marketing, and sales functions for its manufacturing, distribution, marine, heavy equipment rental, and construction-related divisions throughout the U.S. and internationally in Mexico, China, and the Czech Republic. During his five years in this role, he also served as President of one of McDonough's subsidiary companies, Colonial Millworks, Inc., located in Beverly, West Virginia.

"I've admired the integrity, Values and commitment to quality of the founders and Leadership Team at Dion's for many years," Hrcncir said. "When Mark Herman gave me the opportunity to join the team, it was a very easy decision for me. Dion's is an amazing part of the New Mexico landscape, and has great things in store for the future, both here locally and throughout the west. I am humbled and honored to get to be a part of that, and I'm excited to do whatever I can to help contribute to the company's continued success."

"We're excited to have Stan join our team and bring his considerable experience and expertise to this position," Herman said. "His acumen and skills will be a significant contribution as Dion's continues to grow its brand, opportunities, and assets."

Hrcncir holds an MBA and undergraduate marketing degree from the University of New Mexico and is a graduate of Highland High School in Albuquerque. A licensed CPA in New Mexico, Hrcncir also maintains a CVA certification.

Hrcncir's appointment comes with the upcoming retirement of Nancy Laforest, who has served as Director of Finance for the past 20 years.
