

Enjoy an October Photo Scavenger Hunt with your whole family!

- Brainstorm together what you could do for each required photo.
- Involve as many people from your family in each photo as possible.
- Please take photos in landscape (horizontal) mode if you can.
- When you take a photo, see if you can answer the related question while you're gathered at that location.
- Take the photos in any order and save them until the end.
- After you've completed all 7 photos, email them to Angie Fuller at afuller@2bcliberty.org by Nov. 3. Watch for a fun surprise (plus the answers to the questions) in your mailbox!
- Have fun!

Showing your best "surprised" or "scared" facial expressions with the Liberty B&B Theater in the background

Question: In "It's the Great Pumpkin, Charlie Brown," what does Charlie Brown get from each house for trick-or-treating?

Reading books by Mark Twain's statue at the Liberty Police parking lot (be respectful of the statue)

Question: If Malachi, the last book of the Old Testament, is the 39th book of the Bible, what number is the book of Mark?

Showing takeout food you're eating from someplace in Liberty (anything from a meal to a slushie to an ice cream cone!)

Question: On what 3 days of the year are the most pizzas sold?

Attempting cartwheels (don't have to be successful 😊) in a location of your choice

Question: In what gymnastics events might you see a cartwheel? (Hint: vault, floor exercise, bar(s), rings, balance beam, or pommel horse?)

Making silly faces in front of the big sign identifying your school

Question: How many school mascots do you know for all the schools in Liberty?

Playing on a favorite part of the playground at your favorite park (or the one you loved when you were younger)

Question: Two unique playgrounds located in other countries are Whale Playground and Tire Park. Can you guess what country each is in?

Holding hands in front of the Many Hands Fair Trade Shop by 2BC

Question: What does "fair trade" mean? Why is this important?
