

Bernard Zyscovich is the founding partner of Zyscovich, a nationally recognized urban design, architecture and interior design firm headquartered in Miami. He grew up on Miami Beach and has been the architect for many Miami Beach projects, including the Flamingo, the Lincoln Cinema, and Miami Beach High School. His planning work includes the Convention Center CRA, putting 16th street back into the City grid, and recently the Art Deco Cultural District master plan. He has also served as the Chairman of MDPL.