

Bruce Coughlan is a serial songsmith who claims, "It's all about the song." With five decades of experience under his belt, Bruce has emerged as a solo artist whose eclectic mix of original Roots-based songs are honest, timeless & authentic. His storytelling is intriguing, matched by his expressive voice and masterful guitar work.

Pacific Canadian-based recording artist, vocalist, multi-instrumentalist, composer, storyteller and songwriter Bruce Coughlan writes songs that reflect the many roads he's travelled over the decades since he first slung a guitar over his shoulder to tackle life as a performing songwriter & balladeer. Bruce is a polished, professional and versatile entertainer with energy and heart who has captivated audiences around the world.

In 2024 Bruce was awarded Male Vocalist of the Year by the International Singer-Songwriter Association. Known as the voice of Celtic band Tiller's Folly, Bruce has penned hundreds of songs that explore the history, people, and landscapes of the Pacific Northwest and beyond. His solo work reflects a rich tapestry of life experience, poetic insight, and deep musicality, offering audiences a powerful connection through song. Bruce Coughlan brings authenticity, emotion, and craft to every performance.

For more info about Bruce check out www.songsmit.ca

