Each person will be randomly placed into a group of 4. An individual will play 3 games with that group, keeping track of the points they earn with various partners in each game. Each individual will report their total points earned in those three games, and all point totals will be tallied. We will have 3 rounds of this of this type of play.

After these rounds, the 4 players with the highest scores will now play each other, keeping their same partner this round, best 2 out of 3 games. Those with the first round scores that were the 5th to the 8th highest will play each other, and so on. All games will be timed, with 3.5-4 hours allotted for each division.
