New ADRC Website Launch June 2nd

We are excited to share the launch of the new Kansas Aging and Disability Resource Center \(ADRC\) website, which will go live on Monday, June 2. The new website marks the kickoff of the enhanced Kansas ADRC. The Kansas ADRC's goal is to support older adults and people living with disabilities by offering easy access to information, referrals, and options counseling. The ADRC program will help individuals make informed choices about long-term services and programs, meeting them where they live, work, and socialize.

Previously supported by the Kansas Area Agencies on Aging, the ADRC program, now supported by Liberty Healthcare, will continue to help individuals make informed choices about long-term services and programs, meeting them where they live, work, and socialize.

The Kansas ADRC offers walk-in assistance at its office in Lawrence, Kansas, as well as at several satellite locations throughout the state. More details to come. Even more exciting are the in-home appointment options for counseling. The staff of the Kansas ADRC consists of local community members who are well-versed in local community resources and look forward to creating new relationships and strengthening existing partnerships throughout the state.

The attached flyer will help demonstrate services provided by the Kansas ADRC and our local Area Agencies on Aging.
