

"Lunch and Learn"*

A Special Adult Education Class with Rabbi Joseph & Penny Alschuler

Mondays, July 16, 23 & 30 ~ 11:30am to 1pm

Martin Luther King, Jr., Civil Rights, and the Rabbis

"There is no greater power on earth than an idea whose time has come."

We will study the words of MLK during the 1960's, a time of great civil unrest in the United States. Along with MLK's words, we will examine the responses from the pulpit. Central to our discussion will be the question: What is the morally correct road to take in the face of unjust laws? Copies of MLK's "Letter from Birmingham Jail" and his "I Have a Dream" speech will be distributed during class, but feel free to examine them on your own beforehand.

Note: This is a stand-alone course and open to the community.

Please R.S.V.P. to the Temple (781-749-8103 or email Ellen Bernstein at: execdir@shaaray.org if you are planning to attend.)

Important Information: For any who are interested, there will be a Massachusetts Congregations Civil Rights Journey to Atlanta, Montgomery, Selma & Birmingham on November 29-December 2.
