The Terrorist by Anastasia Goodman

The year is 2004 and the terrorist attacks are still fresh in our memories. Protestors against the Iraq War line the streets of major cities. Sasha Perlov, Russian-born NYPD detective, son of a tortured Soviet dissident, is requested by the US Attorney's NY office to interrogate a potential terrorist. Is a Muslim woman picked up by US immigration in Long Island a terrorist? Why is she in the company of members of the infamous MS-13, experts at drug and human smuggling? Is a Latin gang and foreign terror group creating an alliance? History, intrigue, and the effect of political turmoil converge to challenge Sasha as he attempts to seek the truth. Join Sasha as he fights the enemies within and outside of our borders—to protect the country he loves.
