

Chinese Lunch and a Movie!

Sunday, Dec. 16th at 1 p.m.

Question: Where do Jews go on Christmas?

Answer: To a Chinese restaurant, of course!

The film: Dreaming of a Jewish Christmas

An offbeat, fun and intelligent film about how Jews redefined the Christmas season. Dreaming of a Jewish Christmas explores the Jewish songwriters—Irving Berlin, Mel Tormé, Jay Livingston and many others—who wrote the soundtrack to Christendom's most musical holiday, and transformed the holiday from a religious to a secular and inclusive one.

Suggested Donation for Lunch: $10

Note: Lunch will be served at 1 p.m. and the film (52 minutes) will be shown immediately following.
