

Bob Hathorne

Scottsdale, Arizona

For many years, Bob Hathorne has been deeply engaged in Arizona conservative politics advising and coaching candidates on the most important aspect of elections – winning. He has deep knowledge and insights into our constitutional republic and how the left is trying to destroy it.

Bob's biggest battle came in 2016 to convince the AZ Legislature to defeat the National Popular Vote Interstate Compact. This law would have given Arizona's electoral votes to the winner of the National Popular Vote, not the winner of the Arizona Popular Vote. He won and our state's electoral sovereignty has been preserved.

Following graduation from the University of Denver and a stint in the U.S. Army, Bob spent 18 years in the industrial publishing industry and became publisher of the company's leading publications. Later, Bob joined a partnership with a college friend and started a flex-o-graphic printing company which they owned for 13 years. In return for their hard work, they received an offer they couldn't refuse... and, as they say, the rest is history.

Bob and his wife, Barb, enjoy traveling to visit their family and many friends they have developed across Arizona through their various political activities.
