

THE INFORMED DEMOCRAT OF SWFL

Banyai: Running to Solve Real Problems in Florida August 1, 2025

Cindy Banyai is a candidate for Florida State House 78, serving Fort Myers. She is seeking to replace Jenna Persons-Mulicka who currently holds the seat.

“I’m stepping up to run for Florida House 78 because Tallahassee is nothing but a mess of political infighting and ridiculous political posturing while the people in our state are struggling.” Banyai says. “Rather than solving real issues like the insurance crisis, Jenna has been sealing her far-right credentials by sponsoring bills that strip women of their healthcare freedom, make voting more difficult, and make citizen initiatives nearly impossible. I’m ready to work for the people of Fort Myers to make their lives better, not my political career easier.”

“Fortunately, I have been on the ground serving many causes in our community—education, conservation, housing, and recovery. I see the needs we have and know the resources we can throw at them.” Dr. Banyai states. “We need leaders in Tallahassee who are ready to address the real problems we have, not focus on the political issues that divide us. I’m the opposition candidate ready to break the 30 years of one-party rule in Florida that has driven our state into the ground. We must end corruption. We must stop giveaways to big donors.”

Banyai continues, “I don’t pretend to be a wallflower Stepford wife. I say what I think, and I fight for what’s right. If you want someone who works for you, not the powerful elite donors and politicians, I am your choice for Florida House 78 in 2026.”

Banyai is a teacher, a small business owner, and a nonprofit leader. Dr. Banyai has been a decorated professional in the field of community development for over 20 years, collaborating with nonprofits around the world on issues such as homelessness, addiction, education, conservation, and sustainable development. She is running for the Florida House to be the servant leader Fort Myers deserves, fighting for our homes, our health, and our kids! Cindy Banyai believes that together we can create a Fort Myers where the sun shines on everyone.
