Jamilla Harris is the Managing Partner of Michael Sullivan and Associate's El Segundo office. A Bar-certified Specialist in Workers' Compensation, she is responsible for the daily operations of the El Segundo office. Her duties include overseeing the caseloads and work product of the other attorneys, as well as handling a significant caseload of her own. Before her promotion, she was a Supervising Attorney, overseeing the work of junior attorneys, and handling her own caseload of workers' compensation defense files from inception to resolution.

Jamilla received her Juris Doctor degree from Western State College of Law in Fullerton, and her undergraduate degree from the University of Southern California in Los Angeles.

She loves being an Aunt and Godmother. Her favorite hobby is traveling!
