Department of Health Offers Advice for Dealing with the “Holiday Blues”

Although the holidays can be a time of celebration and joy, they can also cause some people to feel stressed and unhappy. This feeling is called the “holiday blues” and is a fairly common condition. People trying to cope with the holiday blues may misuse drugs or drink and eat excessively. They may have difficulty sleeping and have physical complaints. The Anne Arundel County Department of Health’s website offers information on what causes the holiday blues, including anniversaries, unpleasant memories and unrealistic expectations; and it suggests healthy ways to cope with them. For more information, visit www.aahealth.org, and click on “Holiday Blues and Stress” under In the News.

The Department’s website includes additional information for having a healthy holiday, including food safety guidelines, helping children deal with holiday stress and health tips for travelers. Visit www.aahealth.org to learn more.

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Department of Health Offers Healthy Holidays Tips and Free Information Kits For Pregnant Mothers and Babies

The Anne Arundel County Department of Health is working to promote healthy pregnancies and healthy babies by offering tips on travel safety, home safety and healthy eating during the holidays. Tips are available on the "Healthy Moms and Healthy Babies" webpage at www.aahealthybabies.org.

Travel Safety:

- Always use a child car safety seat that is installed correctly and is appropriate for the child's height and weight. By Maryland law, all children under 8 years old must ride in a car safety seat, unless they are taller than 4 feet 9 inches.

Home Safety:

- Always provide a safe sleep environment for infants and young children. Infants should never sleep on a chair, sofa, adult bed or with other people. Infants should be placed on their backs in a crib without blankets, stuffed animals or pillows. Remember the ABCs of safe sleeping– Alone, on their Backs, in a safe Crib.
- Closely supervise children at all times when visiting other people's homes. Make sure that poisons, medicine and household cleaners are secured and out of children's sight and reach.
- Avoid secondhand smoke, which is especially dangerous for pregnant women and infants.

Healthy Eating:

- Pregnant women and other family members should maintain a healthy diet. Eat lots of fruits and vegetables and cook with fat-free or low-fat substitutes.
- Drink plenty of water, 100 percent juice and low-fat milk. Avoid sugary drinks.
- To avoid foodborne illnesses, check expiration dates on all food. Do not eat foods that have been sitting out more than two hours and use leftovers within four days.

The Department of Health offers free Healthy Pregnancy and Baby Care Kits to Anne Arundel County residents. Kits can be ordered online at www.aahealthybabies.org or by calling 410-222-7223.

NEWS RELEASE

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Anne Arundel County Department of Health Provides In-School Vision and Hearing Screenings

Anne Arundel County Department of Health vision and hearing technicians and school nurses conduct mandated vision and hearing screenings in public schools each year. The screenings are for children in preschool, kindergarten, first and eighth grade, and for students new to Anne Arundel County schools. Special education students receiving speech therapy may also be recommended for screening. Department of Health vision and hearing technicians also administer vision and hearing screenings at private schools, nurseries and day care programs to ensure that the appropriate children are screened. Children who wear glasses should bring them to school on the day of the screening. Students in the following schools and programs will be screened in December:

December 3	Marley Elementary
December 4	Pasadena Elementary South Shore Elementary
December 5	Severna Park Children's Center
December 6	Annapolis Area Christian School (lower school) Severna Park Children's Center Southern High School

-more-

December 12	Rippling Woods Elementary
December 13	Linthicum Elementary
December 16	Richard Henry Lee Elementary
December 18	Deale Elementary Glendale Elementary
December 20	Annapolis High School

Children are screened in order to detect vision or hearing problems that may impair a child's ability to perform successfully in school. If a potential deficiency is detected, a letter is sent to the parents or legal guardians informing them of the results. The parents are advised to contact the child's doctor for further testing and advice. For more information on the School Vision and Hearing Program, call Kim Roussey, vision and hearing technician supervisor, at 410-222-6838.
