Account Manager, Traits
Licensing & Distribution

Doug Rice says that his entire life has been centered around agriculture, so it's no surprise he's spent a career in the business. "I have always had a strong connection with the soil and helping people be good stewards of the resources we have been blessed with," Doug says.

For the last 17 years, that ag career has been focused in the seed business, first in leadership roles with Brodbeck Seeds, on integration teams when Brodbeck became part of Corteva Agriscience, and now as an account manager in Licensing & Distribution.

Doug's experience running an independent seed company helps him understand the highs – and the lows – of what his customers go through every day. "My experience helps me relate to my licensees on many different fronts to build a strong, lasting relationship," he says.

As an account manager, Doug works with licensees from the Mississippi River to Eastern Pennsylvania, promoting and supporting Enlist E3[®] soybeans and PowerCore[®] Enlist[®] corn platforms, enabling licensees to access Corteva Agriscience™ traits and genetics in order to achieve their goals.

"I like being able to represent industry-leading traits and genetics, providing this technology to independent seed companies and watching them succeed," Doug says. "If I can help the licensee be successful, then Corteva will be as well."
