THE PROPHETIC IMAGINATION

Thursday, June 25, 2026
7:00 pm | Holy Names Room
Pastoral Outreach Center
(907 Columbia St.)

Dr. Judith Mayotte will lead a discussion of The Prophetic Imagination by Walter Brueggemann (1933-2025). Described as "a classic text in biblical theology – still relevant for today and tomorrow," the book describes "a vision for the community of God whose words and practices of lament, protest, and complaint give rise to an alternative social order."

"Brueggemann still emboldens us to endure and even overcome troubles…by prophetic improvisations that jazz the song of Joshua and crumble the walls thrown up by the politics of domination."—William J. Barber II

"The Prophetic Imagination is precisely what the church needs right now."—Shane Claiborne

"Brueggemann's book remains as timely as ever, retaining all of its power, insight, and daring."—Brent A. Strawn
