The Board of Directors of the Williston State College Foundation is proud to announce the appointment of Hunter Berg as its new Executive Director.

Berg most recently served as the Alumni and Athletic Development Director of the Foundation. Berg, a native of Zahl, North Dakota, is a graduate of Grenora High School and an alumnus of Williston State College and the University of North Dakota. He formerly served as the basketball coach and athletic director at Williston State College.

Berg will assume duties as Executive Director on July 1. Terry Olson will remain at the Foundation as Past Executive Director through June, 2021.

"I am humbled and extremely thankful to be appointed as the next Executive Director for the WSC Foundation. I've been fortunate to be part of Williston State for almost 20 years in various ways and look forward to helping it remain an outstanding asset in our community.

Our campus has changed drastically over the last 20 years and the growth and improvements have been fun to watch. Much of the work has been done by strong partnerships between the college and the WSC Foundation and we look forward to continuing to work alongside WSC to help educate our students. Especially crucial during the past 15 years has been the leadership of Terry Olson as Executive Director of the Foundation. His fundraising work has resulted in significant additions in scholarships, academic programs and new facilities. His imprint will be here forever.

The future is bright for WSC and the Tetons. We have an outstanding Board of Directors, a great staff and the community support will always power our mission. What has been a winning combination in the past will continue to be our formula for success going forward. "
