Five More Businesses added to "21 in 2021" Campaign

Williston Economic Development (WED) and the Small Business Development Center (SBDC) are nearing the completion of their "21 in 2021" challenge. The "21 in 2021" campaign seeks to provide STAR Fund support for 21 unique projects in 2021. So far, "21 in 2021" has already met its new business goal, while it's just shy of attaining the goals set in the expansion and quality of life categories.

"Our goal was to help seven new businesses, seven business expansions and seven quality of life projects in the community," explains Williston Economic Development Executive Director Shawn Wenko.

The most recent projects named to the "21 in 2021" campaign include Crusoe Energy (new), AGEE Enterprises (expansion), Coyote Clay Target League (quality of life), Culbertson Lions Club (quality of life) and the Skating Academy (quality of life).

The campaign just needs three more specific projects to reach the established goals. Wenko says that should not be a problem.

"It has been a phenomenal year for growth in the City of Williston," he said. "The economy is in full rebound, and I expect that growth to continue into the fall."

The following is the complete list of the "21 in 2021" businesses, in alphabetical order, as of July 13, 2021.
