The Tools and Tech of Litigation Economics in Action

Become a Founding Partner of NABE's Growing Initiative

The National Association for Business Economics (NABE) invites your firm to become a Founding Partner of the new Econ + Law Summit—an annual gathering focused on litigation economics. Following a successful webinar series with over 250 attendees, NABE is launching an in-person event to bring together economists, consultants, attorneys, and legal tech leaders.

Why Become a Founding Partner?

- ✓ Showcase Your People – Speaking roles for your firm's experts.
- ✓ Big Onsite Footprint – 10 registrations annually, plus 5 additional registrations for clients
- ✓ Premium Visibility – Excellent branding opportunities across marketing, materials, and website.
- ✓ Influence the Agenda – A planning committee seat ensures your firm's priorities and expertise are included.
- ✓ Connect with Attorneys – Build relationships with litigators, in-house counsel, and top law firms
- ✓ Engage with Policymakers – Hear from officials at FTC, DOJ, DOL, and others shaping the regulatory landscape.
- ✓ Recruit & Retain Talent – Use the platform for brand exposure and hiring; list jobs on NABE's Econjobs.org site.

Sample Topics

Below are example topics being considered for the 2025 NABE Econ + Law Summit. Founding Partners will have the opportunity to shape sessions and nominate speakers.

- Outlook for Economics Careers in Regulation, Enforcement, and Litigation
- AI Transformation and the Future of Litigation and Legal Decision-making
- Perspectives from Former Federal Antitrust Economics Leaders
- A Conversation with Policy Chief Economists
- Economics of Intellectual Property

Commitment & Investment

Founding Partners are asked to commit to 3 years at $15,000/year. This support allows NABE to:

- Keep registration costs low
- Deliver high-quality programming
- Build a sustainable, high-impact platform for the litigation economics community
- Plan for several years of increasing engaging (and improving!) events
