

THIRD ANNUAL

NABE TECH ECONOMICS CONFERENCE

TEC2019

Economics in the Age of Algorithms, Experiments, and A.I.

November 3-5, 2019 / Hyatt Regency Seattle / Seattle, WA

NABE
National Association for Business Economics

About TEC2019

Conventional theory building, model development, and causal inference are necessary but no longer sufficient tools for Tech companies thriving in today's economic environment. The emergence of powerful software algorithms, next-generation experiments, big data, commodification of processing power, scalable platform computing, A.I., and machine learning are generating profound change for business economists and their academic colleagues. Arranged around the theme Economics in the Age of Algorithms, Experiments, and A.I., TEC brings together leading thinkers in economics and data science in an intellectual exchange on how interdisciplinary developments in these fields are impacting today's approaches, frameworks, tools, and techniques. World-class business economists will elaborate on the emerging and future data science needs in economic research and practice.

NABE is pleased to co-host the TEC with Founding Partners Amazon, Google, IBM, Microsoft, Netflix, Uber, and Zillow.

ABOUT NABE: NABE is the premier professional association for business economists and those who use economics in the workplace. Since 1959, NABE has attracted the most prominent figures in economics, business, and academia to its membership with highly-regarded conferences, educational and career development offerings, industry surveys, and its unrivaled networking opportunities. The NABE membership is organized into twelve subject-oriented Roundtables. Past presidents of NABE include former Chairman of the Board of Governors for the Federal Reserve System, Alan Greenspan, several former Federal Reserve Governors, and numerous senior business leaders.
