Census Economic Measurement and Research Internship (EMRI) Program

- <https://www.census.gov/about/census-careers/opportunities/programs/student/emri.html>
- Unlike Pathways Program, you do not have to be enrolled as a student, it is similar to the intern program at the Federal Reserve Board.
- A number of units within Census have leveraged EMRI across a variety of disciplines (mostly in economics):
- The application sent by email must include the following application documents:
 - Curriculum Vitae (should denote any specialized research skills or experience)
 - Unofficial Transcripts - candidates should include all relevant transcripts (i.e. Bachelor, Master and Ph.D.); conferred dates and college or university must be listed on the unofficial transcript(s).
- Candidates who are considering joining EMRI should submit with their application a one-page summary of broad statistical research topic areas and programs.
