

Lee Bowbeer, LCSW

School Social Worker Greenwich High School

Lee Bowbeer earned his bachelor's degree at the University of Michigan, and he holds master's degrees from both the University of Chicago and the University of Michigan. He has worked in many settings with children, including a long-term residential school, juvenile justice facility, outpatient clinic, emergency shelter, and private practice. He completed a post-graduate certificate in infant-parent mental health, where he deepened his understanding of trauma and its effects on child development. Currently, he is a social worker at Greenwich High School.
