Serving Christ in Ghana

Jesus instructed us to feed and care for his sheep. My call is to care for those youth and adults in Ho, Ghana. The Evangelical Presbyterian Church, Ghana programs help youth get an education that are no longer in formal school. Skills-training programs are also supported by John at the Evangelical Presbyterian Activities Centre, which educates girls who have dropped out of school. Through the Shepard Centre of Aging, a church-based social center that engages older adults who live alone in the community, John serves as an informal counselor and companion to the older adults who come to the center for nurture, care, and social and faith activities.
