

Chris E. Wittstruck Professional Bio

Chris E. Wittstruck is a veteran New York attorney and respected equine law specialist who has served the Standardbred racing community for decades. As legal counsel to the Standardbred Owners Association of New York, he brings deep industry knowledge and long-standing experience navigating the regulatory, commercial, and operational issues that shape the sport.

Admitted to the New York Bar in 1982, Chris maintains a private law practice in New Hyde Park, where he focuses on real estate, commercial, and criminal law. His professional standing is recognized by Martindale-Hubbell, reflecting more than 40 years of trusted legal service.

Chris is a graduate of St. John's University and the St. John's University School of Law and remains actively engaged in both the legal and Standardbred racing communities. His combination of legal expertise and industry insight has made him a valued advisor and advocate for horsemen across New York State.
