Make the Most of Golf Season with Branded Sunglasses

Golf season is prime time for promo—and branded sunglasses are a hole-in-one giveaway. Whether it's a charity tournament, a country club event, or a local business league, sunny fairways make the perfect backdrop for your logo. Branded sunglasses don't just protect eyes from the glare—they also keep your brand in sight all day long, on the green and beyond.

Looking to make an impact this season? There are dozens of clever ways to use branded sunglasses for client programs. Add them to golf tournament welcome bags or use them as tiered prizes at company outings. Pro shops and golf retailers can bundle them as a free gift with purchase, especially alongside golf accessories or sun protection gear. Restaurants near courses can even offer them as summer promos or loyalty rewards—because who doesn't love a free pair of shades with their patio lunch?

Even off the course, businesses can use sunglasses as a thoughtful touch for golf-loving clients or employees. Real estate agents, insurance firms, or financial advisors who know their customers hit the course on weekends can surprise them with a branded pair. It's a simple gesture that builds goodwill and keeps your brand visible in a fun, seasonal way.

Ready to tee up your next campaign? We are here to help. Request virtuals, samples, and fresh golf-season ideas. Let's make this season your most stylish—and sun-smart—yet.
